

Learning & Development Consultants

£50 - 70k + Car • Flexible Location

LDL is one of the most respected learning & development consultancies in the UK.

Our consultants come from all kinds of backgrounds but they have one important thing in common, they are passionate about what they do and the results they achieve. This enthusiasm together with a determination to link learning to business goals has built a reputation for high-resolution learning that hits the mark.

Leadership Development

Corporate learning is a fast moving market-sector with enormous growth potential. We are looking for Learning and Development consultants with experience in the design and delivery of leadership, sales and service excellence training solutions.

The successful applicants will have that ability to inspire which separates the exceptional from the merely good.

Educated to degree level you are:

- An enthusiast, with stamina, presence, energy and credibility
- Able to SELL, DESIGN and DELIVER learning and development solutions
- Committed to excellence in client service with a strong work ethic
- Eager to develop your expertise in a wider market

Outstanding presentation and interpersonal skills are required together with a willingness to travel.

The role offers superb opportunities in a supportive, entrepreneurial, status-free environment where contribution is recognised, personal goals are encouraged and individuality is valued. The opportunity for career progression and personal development is substantial.

Remuneration consists of high basic salary plus uncapped commission linked to performance. Excellent benefits.

We are also keen to meet highly skilled associate consultants.

If you think the challenges and rewards of LDL are for you please email or post your CV, with salary details and a covering letter explaining how your career to date has equipped you for this role to:

Catherine Kenny, ref 10T, Leadership Development Ltd, 495 Fulham Road, London SW6 1HH.
Email: recruit@ldl.co.uk Web: www.ldl.co.uk

Skill + Will: Learning That Delivers